cholecystokinin receptor in murine C6 glioma cells. A cDNA that encoded a high-affinity receptor for CCK8 (Cholecystokinin 8) in murine C6 glioma cells was isolated by screening with several CCK8 analogs. The deduced cDNA contained a 333-amino acid open reading frame that showed a high degree of similarity with a known rat CCK8 receptor. Expression of the cloned cDNA in C6 cells resulted in a >100-fold increase in high affinity binding of [125I]Bolton Hunter-CCK8. Binding sites labeled by the ligand specifically bound to a solubilized membrane preparation from C6 cells, as revealed by ligand
